Overview

The New York State Women, Inc. Political Development (PD) Program is a mentoring program wherein the candidates will have interacted with peers developing their advocacy skills - - giving the opportunity to practice their networking, interpersonal relationship, interviewing and public speaking skills.

The Local Chapter recognizes a member or potential member who meets the criteria as a candidate to the Speech Competition and develops a mentoring partnership with another member or members to support the candidate to develop personally, professionally and politically. Their mentors should critique their skills, offer constructive criticism, nurture their strengths and guide them so that the learning experience helps their individual personal, professional and political growth.

The New York State Women, Inc. PD Competition recognizes the accomplishments of any women who takes an issue from the NYS Women, inc. legislative platform or advocacy statement and advocates for that issue.

The PD Program concludes with the Speech Competition held at the Chapter, Region (if desired a non-elimination competition can be held) and State levels. Selection is based on written and biographical information, judge's interviews, group interaction and prepared speech competition.
